"You shall love the LORD, your God,
with all your heart,
and with all your soul,
and with all your strength.”

-- Deuteronomy 6:5

LOVE GOD

As we near the end of the liturgical year we listen to Gospel readings from the final stage of Jesus' ministry – His teaching in Jerusalem. This Sunday Jesus is in conversation with one of the scribes of the temple. In a rare occurrence Jesus and the scribe agree on the two greatest commandments - - to love God with all your being and to love your neighbor as yourself.

In today's selection from Deuteronomy Moses gives this teaching to the Israelites as the core of their life of faith and prayer, and Psalm 18 echoes this prayer with the words, "I love you, O LORD, my strength" (Psalm 18:2). Jews and Christians agree that our greatest responsibility is to love the one and only God, and that we cannot claim to love God without loving our neighbor as ourselves.

GOD'S LAWS

God's laws are not intended to burden or torment us. Instead they are guideposts that point us in the direction of good living. Accordingly, good living requires loving God and loving one another. We should not follow God's laws out of fear of what might happen if we don't, but rather view them as a foundation for building relationships and trust with one another and with God.

The Shema prayer of Orthodox Jews is based on the reading from Deuteronomy today, "Hear, O Israel." Every morning people recite the prayer as a profession of their love for God and pledge their obedience to God throughout the day. They pass on their love of God to their children, from one generation to the next.
LEARNING TO MEASURE CORRECTLY

Our society truly believes it has arrived by its successes in measuring and weighing everything and everyone. We are confident we have experienced the worst hurricane ever recorded; density of clouds can be measured; intelligence can be recorded by numbers; professional athletes can be traded because of a variation in their measurements. We seem to need to measure almost every individual experience or observation against some norm or standard. Jesus gives us a norm, a measurement, a standard by which to live. Christ presents an interrelationship of the love of God, and the love of self and others, as the most important measurement of life. If you, or someone you know would like to hear more about Jesus and about the norms and measurements that He extends to us, we invite you to join us at an Inquiry Session. Inquiry sessions DO NOT assume a commitment to join the Catholic Faith family. Inquiry sessions are opportunities to ask questions about God, Jesus, the Catholic Faith Family. All who are unbaptized, baptized into another faith denomination, or baptized Catholic but have not received Eucharist and Confirmation, are invited. Inquiry sessions are for those who wish to inquire, explore, and search for ways to grow in relationship with God. For more information, call the RCIA at 732-562-1990 x 1633.
