Next Weekend’s Collection - Catholic Communication Campaign: The CCC helps people in the U.S. and around the world. For example, 90% of the Philippine island of Samar’s people are Catholic. Most live in remote villages without TV and Internet. So radio is a critical source of information, and the Catholic Church has provided a dedicated radio station with spiritual programming for 20 years. But in 2013, Typhoon Haiyan destroyed the entire radio station, leaving hundreds of thousands without access to spiritual messages. Your support for the Catholic Communications Campaign is now helping the local diocese to rebuild the radio station. Because of you, people can once again hear radio programs that deepen their faith.

To learn more, visit www.usccb.org/ccc.

Baby Bottle Blessings is ongoing until next weekend when we ask you to return your bottles filled with spare change/money to help women experiencing unexpected pregnancies. Please pray for them and please be generous.

Advance Directive for Health Care

The Catholic Perspective

Documents which provide guidance when a person is no longer able to make health care decisions are called “advance directives.” It is recommended that those completing an advance directive also appoint a health care representative who is someone who is trusted and authorized to evaluate what the patient would want and to make those health care decisions. The Catechism of the Catholic Church provides clear guidance on end of life issues. The N J Catholic Conference (NJCC)of Bishops has Advance Directives for Health Care form which reflects the Catholic perspective. Copies are available from the Respect Life Office at 732-562-1990 x1629/1543 or can be down-loaded from diocesan website at www.diometuchen.org/deptsministries/respect-for-life/catholic-advance-directives-living-wills/or NJCC website:www.njcathconf.com. Forms are also available in Spanish. A Catholic Guide to End-of-Life Decisions provides a clear explanation of Church’s teaching on end-of-life care, including advance directives and physician assisted suicide. Go to www.ncbcenter.org for copies.

THE WORKINGS OF THE SPIRIT

Anyone who has seen a loved one off to a new adventure knows how difficult it is to rejoice, even when we are reasonably optimistic about their future. So, we can imagine how difficult it must have been for the disciples to rejoice in Jesus' announced departure. Today's Gospel is part of Jesus' Last Supper discourse, recorded only by John. Jesus announces shocking news. He must go to the Father, and they should rejoice in this. To help them through this, Jesus gives His disciples His gift of peace and promises an Advocate.

The Church has grown and still exists on this earth because of the abiding Spirit. But living by the Spirit and entering into the peace of Christ is no small task. Jesus doesn't promise the apostles a rose garden. He is realistic about the costs of discipleship. And, mercifully, he is also clear about its rewards.

THE GIFT OF PEACE

We are offered another vision in today’s second reading, a vision of the New Jerusalem, “coming down out of heaven from God” (Revelation 21:10). Read between the lines describing the radiant city, and we find that the greatest beauty revealed is the beauty of perfect symmetry and order, a city founded on the faith of the twelve tribes of Israel and the twelve Apostles, lit only by the glory of God. The first reading and the Gospel are linked to this idealized description of the New Jerusalem. In both we read of distress and disturbance countered by the gift of peace. “My peace I give to you,” Jesus assures his disciples at the Last Supper (John 14:27). In keeping with that gift, the apostles and elders, in the reading from Acts, decide not to disturb the peace of new Gentile believers. The undue burden of circumcision will not be imposed on them.
