Sisters of Christian Charity

June 3, 2017 will mark the 200th birthday of Blessed Pauline von Mallinckrodt (Mother Pauline), foundress of the Sisters of Christian Charity. In an effort to make Mother Pauline better known, we continue our series of biographical sketches that were begun recently.

When Pauline turned ten, her parents sent her to St. Leonard’s Academy, where she met a tremendously gifted teacher and poet, Luise Hensel. Without a doubt, Pauline was strongly influenced by the positive example of this outstanding educator, who knew how to form her students’ minds while she guided and encouraged their spirits. A “reward” which she offered her top students was to join in caring for the most neglected poor of the city. Because of the enthusiasm of their teacher, her students vied to spend Saturday afternoons washing and dressing the street children and ministering to the needy. Long after they left her classroom, Luise Hensel’s students would continue the lessons of justice and mercy they learned from this energetic woman. In fact, many of her students went on to become Sisters, several of them (including Pauline) founding religious communities.
Upon entering the Cathedral, please be kind enough to turn off all cell phones. Thank you.

"I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me."
--John 14:6

VOCATION: Roman Catholics in the United States spend a good deal of time speaking of “vocation” and the manner in which each of us discerns our vocation for life. In today’s apostolic letter, however, Peter gives us the “cornerstone” of our vocation, the description of what each of us is called to first and foremost by our baptism. He describes our vocation as “a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people of [God’s] own, so that you may announce the praises” of Christ, who called us out of darkness into light (1 Peter 2:9). All of us, no matter what path our life’s vocation may take us down, have been chosen by God, made holy, and anointed as priests in the high priesthood of Christ through baptism. All of this, so that we may announce the praises of Christ. Vocation is given for proclamation at home, in the workplace—wherever life takes us—in service, in word, and in sacrament.

THE WAY: In today's Gospel reading we hear part of Jesus' discourse at the Last Supper as reported in the Gospel of John. "I am the way and the truth and life," Jesus assures his disciples. At that time they did not understand what He meant; they wanted easy answers. "Just show us the Father," Philip begged.

But the first and second readings show us how the early church came to understand Jesus' words. The amazing growth of the church led them to select seven men to do the works of service needed with so many new members. The followers of Jesus had grown in such numbers that Peter could exclaim in his letter over the fact that Christ, the "rejected stone," was now the cornerstone on whom the salvation of all the world rests. Down to this present day, He is truly the way, the truth, and the life.

Advance Directive for Health Care
The Catholic Perspective
Documents which provide guidance when a person is no longer able to make health care decisions are called “advance directives.” It is recommended that those completing an advance directive also appoint a health care representative who is someone who is trusted and authorized to evaluate what the patient would want and to make those health care decisions. The Catechism of the Catholic Church provides clear guidance on end of life issues. The N J Catholic Conference (NJCC)of Bishops has Advance Directives for Health Care form which reflects the Catholic perspective. Copies are available from the Respect Life Office at 732-562-1990 x1629/1543or be downloaded from diocesan website at www.diometuchen.org/deptsministries/respect-for-life/catholic-advance-directives-living-wills/or NJCC website:www.njccathconf.com. Forms are also available in Spanish. A Catholic Guide to End-of-Life Decisions provides a clear explanation of Church’s teaching on end-of-life care, including advance directives and physician assisted suicide. Go to www.nccatholic.org for copies.
